Thinking Tinkering catches the national wave of interest in engineering design, and the exhibit allows visitors to design and improve rockets, automata, lego cars and more with a variety of materials.

Thinking Tinkering is made possible by the National Science Foundation and by TexNET, the Texas Network for Exhibit-based learning and Teaching.

Programs at the Imaginarium...

Here at the Imaginarium of South Texas, we pledge to bring you different workshops that you and your family can participate in during the month. We want to generate conversation and communication between you and your children, because these are the activities that provide the opportunities to make memories. We believe that family involvement is key to children's self-esteem, and our mission embraces the practice of providing an atmosphere that celebrates family in a learning environment to stimulate curiosity and discovery. In order to become life-long learners, children need to be exposed to rich and varied experiences that encourage creativity and foster individual expression.

Book knowledge can always be learned. The confidence necessary to pursue knowledge must be nurtured. We pledge to provide an environment that nurtures the creative spirit that makes each visitor unique, both in children and adults.
